

Commanderie de la Bargemone Rosé 2017

91 POINTS

WINE ENTHUSIAST

& Editors' Choice!

Offers classic aromas of wild strawberries and red currants, with a light, floral character and a crisp, bone-dry palate. A rosé of reference, to be enjoyed year-round on its own or with a wide range of lighter fare and Provence-inspired cuisine.

JEB DUNNUCK

“Like the white, the 2017 Coteaux d'Aix en Provence Rosé (30% Grenache, 28% Syrah, 23% Cabernet Sauvignon, 10% Cinsault, and the rest Rolle, Carignan, and Cunoise) has a beautiful saltiness that makes your mouth water. White cherries, strawberries, and spice notes all flow to a medium-bodied rosé that has terrific acidity, plenty of fruit and a clean, dry finish.”
