

It Began with a Murder

(of sorts)

Dancing Crow Vineyards

Nestled in the hills of Lake County, California, Dancing Crow Vineyards got its namesake when a murder of crows swooped into their fledgling vineyard and stole all the straw being used to mark the vines. Now the iconic and mischievous bird graces label of every wine they make.

Dancing Crow Vineyards crafts aromatic, French-style wines from California vines