

SOMBRAS DEL SOL

Valle de Maule, Chile

The sun is a powerful symbol of light and life and the source of all energy, and the name Sombras del Sol means "The Shadow of the Sun." Handcrafted in the heart of Valle de Maule in Chile. The oldest plantations from the Santa Rosa estate date back to the 1950s, and there is a combination of mainly Bordeaux varieties planted here. The estate is much closer to the Maule river and the soils are alluvial in origin with a clay texture with plenty of pebbles and round rocks. The warm, Mediterranean climate allows for full and healthy ripening of a wide range of grape varieties, and the vineyard has drip irrigation installed for dry years.
