Description: Italian Lager with a crisp hoppy finish.

6/4pk 16 oz cans

Italian-style pilsners, whether brewed in Europe or in the US, are defined by their unique production method that includes dry-hopping with German grown hops. This process involves adding hops to the beer so that its aroma is maximized but no excessive bitterness is created.

The result of the dry-hopping process is a dry and clean beer with a strong hops taste, which is different from many other beers that are more about the malt.

Even if you often drink other varieties of pilsner, you will be surprised and delighted by the floral taste of this option. Italian-style pilsner tastes crisp and light and is sure to remind you of summers spent in the sun or at the coast.
