Sedert 1856
Brugge, Belgium

Brouwerij De Halve Maan, the most visited brewery in Belgium, has been family-owned and operated since 1856, passing through six generations of the family tree. For decades, the family brewers have strived to offer world-class beer, both in quality and taste, whilst remaining true to their traditions, and the art of brewing.

Current owner and brewer since 2005, Xavier Vanneste, is no different, and has made it his life's work to unite the stout heritage of his family's brewery with 21st century practices and state of the art technology. The brewery has developed award-winning recipes under Xavier's leadership, all of which are dearly beloved by the citizens of Bruges, and the world beyond.

Brugse Zot Blond

The official table beer of the city of Bruges, Bruges Zot is a delicious blonde beer, brewed according to a unique and traditional recipe. Launched in 2005 by Xavier Vanneste, its name harks back to the late Middle Ages, when the Emperor Maximilian of Austria visited Bruges. Bruges Zot is a very drinkable thirst-quencher with bags of character, brewed with four varieties of malt and two types of aroma hops. Thanks to refermentation the taste evolves in the bottle.
