

FAVONIUS

WHITE WINE

2022

---

Favonius is the name of the west wind in Roman mythology. In the Portuguese wine region of Lisboa, where we grow our grapes, the western wind is predominant and comes from the Atlantic Ocean, having a huge influence on the climate where we grow our grapes.

THE VINEYARD

The vineyard is located in Bombarral, inside the Lisboa demarcated wine region, on clay and sandy soil. The harvest was done by hand and took place on the second week of September 2022.

THE VINIFICATION

The grapes of Arinto (90%) and Fernão Pires (10%) were pressed with whole bunch and fermented in stainless steel vats with the gross lees. The skins were lightly pressed, and the resulting juice was blended to fill the stainless steel vat where the wine aged, without bâtonnage. This wine will be bottled in March of 2023, without any fining or filtration.
